SENIORS OUT TO WIN FROM VARSITY TEAM

Squad Held Strenuous Practice Last Night.

TEAM WEAKENED

Philpotts and Selby Cope not Likely to Play.

With the Varsity-McGill game only two days off the Seniors indulged in their last heavy practice before Saturday. Hughes who has had a bad knee was out and went through a light work-out. It is very likely that he will start on the back-field of the Red and White. Hannah's hip is still bothering him considerably and it is improbable that he will be able to play. He spent considerable time last night in catching punts and did a little running. Philpotts whose mouth is infected from having several teeth loosened in the last game will probably not be in next Saturday's line-up. His place will be taken by Mickle, with Bazin as a substitute. Young Bazin has been put on the training table list and he will doubtless get his chance with the Senior squad before the season is over. He demonstrated his abilities in Wednesday's game against Loyola and in the opinion of several well known rugbyists he is a coming star. As Bazin is taking a seven-year course in Medicine his addition to the McGill team will be an advantage for a considerable time.

The rest of the Senior squad went through a long scrimmage with the seconds and the interference is being run much more smoothly and the halves are following it better and getting their passes away with greater success. The few rail-birds who were on hand to watch the practice think that McGill stands an excellent chance against Varsity tomorrow. The team is showing to much better advantage than at this time last week and most of the weaknesses that were discovered by the coaches in the game against Queen's have been revealed and with even breaks McGill has as good a chance to win as the Toronto team. Tomorrow's line-up will probably be as follows:

Left Half "Bones" Little
Centre Half "Gordie" Hughes
Right Half "Murphy" Murphy
Flying Wing "Herbie" Norrie
Quarter-Back Jack Mickle
Snap-Back "Doug" McGregor
Left Inside Errol Ameron
Right Inside "Andy" Starke
Left Middle Woodruff
Right Middle "Art" Manson
Right Outside Dick Wilson
Subs: Anderson, Newton, Bazin, white, Fife, Dier, "Cam" Cope, Gill.

SCHEDULE OUT FOR FACULTY FOOTBALL

Result of Conference With Rugby Manager at Stadium

The drafting of a schedule was the major item of the agenda at the meeting of the Inter-Faculty Rugby representatives who met at the Stadium yesterday to confer with Hal Robinson, the rugby manager.

It was mentioned in the course of business that a number of uniforms are available for the inter-faculty players and these, together with a quantity of serviceable shoes, will be apportioned among the various colleges to supplement their existing stock. This arrangement, it is hoped, will preclude the failure of any rugby men to turn out for lack of outfit.

No effort is to be spared by those in charge to popularize the sport and enable a greater number of players to participate than can be provided for in intercollegiate contests.

The point was stressed in meeting that those intending to participate in the coming fixtures must be medically examined before appearing for play in order that none may later be disqualified for failure to comply with regulations. Standard playing rules will prevail and hours for games will be posted later.

The representatives for the various faculties are:

Arts: Webster; Law: Hutchison; Medicine: Hamilton; Commerce: McRae; Science: Leslie; and the schedule as drafted is as follows:

Oct. 17—Science vs. Commerce.
Oct. 19—Arts vs. Medicine.
Oct. 22—Law vs. Science.
Oct. 24—Commerce vs. Arts.
Oct. 26—Medicine vs. Law.

COMPETITION KEEN AMONG MCGILL STARS

Inter-Faculty Meet Scheduled for 2.15 at Stadium

GENERAL NEWS

Queens Hope to Enter Team in Big Meet at Toronto

Track Meet will be staged at the Stadium, and all students are benefitting today by the annual holiday for this occasion. Many organizations are taking advantage of this day to hold some special event, among which might be mentioned the annual Professors-Students Golf Tournament and the final match of the University Tennis Singles between Willard Crocker and Dave Morrice, this season's surprise.

It is hoped that today will turn out fine, for the weather has rather tended to be unsettled during the last few days. It any rate, it is hardly likely that it will be as cold as the day of the meet last year; the event will take place rain or shine, and will no doubt be a success.

Most of the men who will participate today have been practising steadily for over a month, and are in the very best possible condition. Their faithful work deserves support, and should receive it from the undergraduate body. The meet is scheduled to start at two fifteen-sharp, and will last for a little over two hours; since a general holiday has been granted for the sports, there is no reason why a large turnout should not be on hand.

The competition between the faculties will be keen, and it is practically impossible to pick a winner. Science have a strong representative in Patterson for the sprinting events, while in the high jump Rutherford will attempt to repeat his performance of last Saturday; Kerr, also of this faculty, is entered in the three-mile run, and will take a lot of beating. Arts have better men than for several years, and will make a strong bid for the honors; they have good entries in all the events except the sprints. Medicine has a long list of entrants, and bid fair to repeat their excellent performance of last fall, when they doubled the number of points secured by Science, who stood second in that meet. Law and Commerce also has entries, and may prove a stumbling block to the larger groups of participants.

The results of today's meet will give coach Van Wagner a basis upon which to choose his team for the nineteenth, and the members of the team will probably be announced in tomorrow's issue, in conjunction with the names of the winners in all events. Up to the present the coach has not made any definite statement, for there has been so much uncertainty regarding the chances of the various men.

The interfaculty meet was held at Toronto's Varsity on Wednesday, and, from the reports, must have unearthed some very promising material. Vince was the individual star of the meet, scoring in other events besides the sprints, in which he of course excelled. The news that Queens has refused to be the doorman in the Intercollegiate Track Union any longer, and is sending a team of picked men to Toronto is indicative of the general intercollegiate spirit this year.

Oct. 31.—Commerce vs. Law.
Nov. 2.—Medicine vs. Science.
Nov. 6.—Arts vs. Law.
Nov. 7.—Commerce vs. Medicine.

ENDOWMENT FUND FROM "OLD BOYS"

Will Supply Funds for Building.

JUST INITIATED

Financial Problems Explained by Sir Arthur.

Dr. C. F. Martin and Sir Arthur Currie presided at a meeting held yesterday noon in the Mount Royal, for the purpose of initiating plans toward the establishment of a McGill University Graduates' Fund. Secretaries of many graduate classes were present.

The fund which will symbolize closer relations between the graduates and the University, will in the expected be sufficient to supply the University with a further steady annual income of between $40,000 and $50,000. It will be administered by a Board of Trustees composed of seven graduates and five representatives chosen by the Government of the University.

In securing the money to institute the endowment the secretaries of all graduate classes will write personal letters to their class men pointing out the benefit of the scheme, and generally creating interest. More formal letters will be sent out by Sir Arthur Currie.

Fund Purposes

The main purposes of the fund are: To enable McGill to rely on a steady income upon which she can plan improvements.

To enlist and retain the interest of the graduates in the needs and management of the University.

To establish a fund to be managed and controlled by the graduates for the good of the University and to which any subscription large or small, will be welcomed.

The subscriptions will be invested and the net income alone distributed for general purposes.

Sir Arthur Currie addressing the secretaries, drew attention to the fact that only 30 per cent of the expenses of the University were secured from the fees of the undergraduates. These fees, supplemented by interest from investments did not meet current expenditure. This meant that it would be difficult to take care of present necessities satisfactorily, future growth and expansion would be seriously handicapped.

The undergraduates' fee could not, he said, be increased at the present time, since they were already higher than those called for by other universities. He felt that the present time was inopportune for launching a large and comprehensive campaign, as the

The competition is open for six months, starting from this month, and is open to any nationality. Working details for all vehicles will be arranged to be held in England.

100 ROOTERS TICKETS FOR SALE AT UNION

Ticket sales yesterday indicate that the rooters will be out on mass at Saturday's game. Over five hundred tickets were sold, and the remaining hundred are on sale at the Tuck Shop. Long before the time appointed for the sale of the tickets, two long queues formed at the wickets of the Students' Council office, all bent on getting the coveted pasteboards. Only the $1.00 seats will be placed on sale Saturday afternoon.

The services of several men have been secured to amuse the crowd in the reserved section during half time. What is to be the form of this amusement has not yet been announced. Patay, McGill's new mascot will be present at the game.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1923.

SPORTS DAY

Lectures in all faculties are cancelled to-day, and a general holiday is granted to all undergraduates. This holiday is an annual affair and its purpose is known to the majority of the students, but for the benefit of newcomers to the university a few words as to the reason why the authorities see fit to suspend lectures may not be out of place.

This is Sports' Day and the annual Interfaculty track meet is being held this afternoon at the Stadium. The authorities have given us a holiday so that we can either take part in the athletic events or go up and support the representatives of our faculty by rooting for them from the grand-stand. The faculty know that college spirit does not come from books alone, and lectures are cancelled to give that spirit an opportunity of showing itself. It is not given to the tired student may go home and sleep. If you can't run, root. Show some of the spirit we hear so much about. And remember, that though to-day is a holiday, you have an important engagement at the Stadium this afternoon.

We are writing in this vein solely for the benefit of those who are attending McGill for the first time, as we feel that all old timers know the purpose of to-day's holiday is to enable those who desire to win fame on the cinder track to do so, and to give the rest a chance to show their loyalty by supporting them from the spectator seats.

A Sports' Day, which is not only given over to the afternoon's Interfaculty meet, but which includes two events of exceptional interest in the brilliant playing that it is expected will be a feature of this year. The athletic meet should not be allowed to obscure the interest in brilliant playing that it is expected will be a feature of the tennis finals and in the annual golf match at Dixie between the professors and the students.

All out, then, for a strenuous Sports' Day—not a sleepy idle day at home. Show some of that well-known spirit.

THE TENNIS FINALS

At last, after a lapse of several years, the annual tennis tournament has reached the final stages and the championship will be decided this morning. This season's tournament has been a decided success. It has been well run and those who have been in charge are to be congratulated on the results which they obtained.

Moreover, those who have followed the matches now know that McGill's chances in the Intercollegiate contests are exceedingly bright. Ever since the resumption of athletics after the war, the Red and White racket men have held the trophy and with the material available at present it will be a wonder if the title passes into other hands. Yesterday's semi-finals between Wright and Morrison called forth a brand of tennis, which has seldom, if ever, been equalled on the courts. Both men showed great gameness and one was a modest winner, while the other was a magnificent loser. The two will constitute a strong backbone for the squad and those who face them in the coming matches will have plenty to worry over. New materials during the past week, has been uncovered also and this year's aggregation will be one of the strongest ever representing Old McGill.

last effort was too recent and general conditions too unsatisfactory.

Small Amount
Much, however, could be done if a small amount was contributed annually by the graduates. If the University was assured of an income of $30,000 from this source during the next few years the University authorities would be justified in beginning at once the construction of a new gymnasium. The amount mentioned was the annual income from $500,000, the amount necessary to make up the cost of the building as planned. The building with equipment and maintenance would cost $350,000 and the University had $200,000 for this purpose. When capital funds were again raised the $500,000 borrowed could be paid off. The sum mentioned $30,000 was not much for the graduates of McGill to provide each year, and if it was spent in the manner suggested an outstanding necessity would be provided for at once.

The graduates of McGill, he emphasized, had been a great help to the University in the past particularly in the last campaign. Their practical interest encouraged and stimulated the administration to a degree of which they could not be fully aware. McGill, he declared, was doing a work worth while and if the graduates believed that there need be no apology in making the appeal, Sir Arthur had every confidence that the response would be full and generous.

More than 50 graduates, acting as secretaries of their classes, were present.

HARRIERS CLUB OFFERS SILVER TO RUNNERS

Those who are now wondering as to whether they shall turn out with the Harriers or not should stroll down to St. Catherine Street and see the display in the window of J. R. Gaunt and Sons. Five handsome trophies, three cups and medals, can now be seen in the above window. These are to be competed for in the Interfaculty Race to be held on Saturday, the 27th. A good view of those beautifully shaped cups should make any man who can do the five and a half miles decide to start training at once for the big race.

One of the many good features of long distance running is that no previous experience is necessary. It is not too late to get a place in this event if action is taken right away. Any man contemplating the capture of these trophies should see Coach Van Wagner or the Harrier Captain, T. Kerr, as soon as possible. Running is taking place every afternoon at the Stadium under the direction of Mr. Van Wagner. This is the first time at least for some years, that prizes have been given in the Interfaculty Race. The honor of one's faculty, a place on the representative team and a splendid prize should surely be incentives which will bring out all runners in the University.

Harriers are reminded that they should have the necessary physical examination as soon as it can be arranged.

OXFORD MEN GIVE FINE EXHIBITION

Touring Englishmen Win Debate from Harvard

READY FIGURES

Visitors Prove Germany Unable to Pay Reparations

Owing to the interest aroused in the forthcoming debate between the touring Oxford team and that of McGill on Oct. 17th the following account of their victory over Harvard has been clipped from the Harvard Crimson and reproduced.

By a three to one vote of 1748 to 619 the audience at the Harvard-Oxford debate in Symphony Hall on Monday Oct. 8th, supported the Oxford debaters in their objection to the French occupation of the Ruhr. Although the question for the debate originally read, "Resolved: That this house disapproves the French Occupation of the Ruhr" it was enlarged during the course of the debate to include the more general problem of the immediate payment or non-payment of the German reparations. Throughout the debate, the Harvard supported the proposition, "Germany ought to pay," while the Oxford debaters maintained that, "Germany cannot pay." And although each team may be considered to have proved its contention, the audience showed, by its overwhelming vote, that it was more convinced by the facts of the Englishmen than by the sentiments of the Americans.

In his initial sentences J. D. Woodruff the first speaker for Oxford, presented this conflict of contentions. "Nearly all of this audience, I venture to say," he began, "are influenced in this question of the Ruhr invasion by their pity for France and their indignation against Germany. But they are both emotions, and we must solve this Ruhr problem, not by emotion but by reason."

"The man who disturbs with cold facts the decided slumber of fixed opinions is not a welcome interrupter. Yet it is upon these cold facts that we of the affirmative must base our arguments this evening."

Then with a startling array of figures he declared that France is far less seriously devastated than is probably imagined, and that Germany has paid far more reparations than has been generally conceded. France's devastated areas, which, he declared, amounted to about three per cent of her total area, been more than atoned for by her acquisitions of colonial possessions of the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, and of the Saar valley.

Continuing his "cold facts and economic reasoning," Scalfie declared that Germany could not further reduce her debt to France without a favorable balance of exports over imports, and that by seizing the German coal fields in the Ruhr valley, France was depriving Germany of her last opportunity to maintain such a balance.

"When a man has become bankrupt," he concluded, "you can sell his general property if you like, but you cannot in justice take away his instruments of livelihood."

Charlton MacVeagh '23, the first speaker for the Harvard team, outlined the arguments of the negative side by declaring that Germany had failed to pay because of insincerity rather than inability. He traced the long series of evasions and quibblings by which Germany had sought to procrastinate and reduce her payments and showed not stimulated Germany into a desire for speedy payment. "Germany can pay, but is unwilling!" he stated. "But since the German government can't or will not control the situation and speed up production by simple and obvious means such as taxing the German industrialists and abolishing the eight hour day it becomes necessary for France to step in and assume control."

Germany's capacity, or incapacity to pay her debts was next discussed by G. A. Gardiner the second speaker for Oxford. Germany has no gold, it can obtain no credit, and, with the occupation of the Ruhr, its last opportunity for payment in kind has been taken away. From payment in gold marks to payment in beehives and telegraph poles, Germany, he said, had made its last possible inroad upon its capital.

Again he stated that the only way in which Germany could hope to pay her $33,000,000,000 debt to the Allies was by building up a profitable balance of trade. To do this, it is necessary to strengthen the German central government by moratoriums, and salutary trade relations, rather than to disorganize the governments earnings capacity by military meddling.

Unless the German Government is kept strong enough to control the situation and keep the states from secession, there will be no reparations. And that," he ended, "might be one solution of the reparations difficulty."

Philip Walker '25, next speaker for the negative, accepted the opposition's demand for facts and cited figures to show Germany's ability to pay her reparations. He reverted, however, to an appeal to sentiment, and reminded the audience of Germany's march through Belgium, her air raids upon defenceless English towns, and finally of her efforts to avoid paying reparations for

MED. SOPHS PAINTED UP FEW FROSH

Captured First Year Men at Physics Building.

PARADE FOLLOWED

King Tut's Coffin Was Revived for the Occasion.

It seems that the freshmen about the University are quick to learn the ups and downs of initiation quicker in fact than the Sophs themselves. Yesterday afternoon the Med. freshmen to all appearances pulled off a new stunt on their Sophs. It may have been unconscious on their part, however, perhaps they have been cutting their afternoon lectures all this week.

At any rate, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock a group of eager Medical Sophomores awaited the freshmen of their faculty at the door of the MacDonald Physics Building.

The hour-bell in the building sounded and when the grand rush was to start only a few of the greenest Fresh tripped out of the lecture-hall. Another discernible fact was that men from every other faculty seemed to attend the Medical Physics lecture. All in all twelve men were nabbed. They were grabbed one by one but the unperturbed Sophs remained hopeful and expected more to come. But no more came.

The Sophs who were well prepared materially were undaunted and fell too upon the fresh bedaubing them with all conceivable colors. Their trouser-legs were rolled up, hair powdered, and tin drums provided several of the men. With a considerable gallery, the freshmen were led to the Biological Building. Here King Tut's coffin was picked up making the procession a novel one. The fresh made excellent pull-bearers.

The line of march continued about the campus. The scene of the tennis struggle was included to the enjoyment of all present.

From here the initiates were led along Sherbrooke Street where they performed for public benefit.

This was an intensive initiation but there was nothing extensive about it.

The Freshman Stunt is a unique one in the history of initiations. But the Sophomores fur has been rubbed the wrong way, "let all Medical Freshmen beware!" is the cry of the outraged Sophs.

ROOTERS BAND HAS SOME NEW SONGS

Held Last Practice Yesterday Afternoon.

A band practice, under the leadership of Rene Gagnier, was held at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Union. This was the final practice before the game against Varsity this Saturday, and was called for the purpose of introducing some new songs and marches which will make their debut at the coming football game.

There was a fair attendance and from present indications, great things are to be expected from the musicians. The band will assemble at 1.15 at the Union and will lead the rooters to the Stadium under the leadership of J. B. Gagnier of the Grenadier Guards band.

Hobo Day

October 12 will be Hobo Day at Washburn College. Classes will be dismissed at 10 o'clock. Elections will take place shortly after. The voting for King and Queen of the Hoboes her actions. He declared that Germany need not necessarily be forced to pay the full sum of the reparations, but that she must attack her problem with a sincere effort for its solution. It was for this reason—to create within Germany a desire to meet her obligations—that France had taken possession of the Ruhr.

G. O. Scalfie, the concluding Oxford speaker repeated the affirmative plea to rule but not prejudiced opinion. "You cannot," he said, "strike a balance sheet with sentiment." Briefly he reviewed points of his colleagues as to Germany's past payments and present inability to pay. He then wound up the argument for the affirmative with the statement that force must be eliminated from the settlement of international disputes. That "force is not a solution but an enhancement of difficulties" was a lesson bitterly taught in the recent World War. Declaring that both the economic and political consequences of the Ruhr occupation could not be other than disastrous, he condemned France's Ruhr policy as a challenge to the principles of international cooperation produced by the war.

The concluding remarks of P. W. Williams '25, the final speaker of the negative. His arguments were, briefly:

"Germany can pay her reparations."

"Germany must pay her debts."

"Germany is unwilling to pay."

"Germany only understands force!"

And finally, "The invasion of the Ruhr is an action to make Germany desire to fulfill her obligations."

MECHANICAL CLUB HELD MEETING

At a well attended meeting held yesterday afternoon, J. S. Pemberton was elected by acclamation as First Year Representative.

A motion was passed that the membership fees for this session should be one dollar for men of the Senior and Junior Years and fifty cents for the men of the Sophomore and Freshman Years of the Faculty of Applied Science, and the undergraduates of any other department of the University who are desirous of joining the Mechanical Club. It was agreed that only paid-up members of the club will be allowed to attend the trips. Fees may be paid to the following, viz:

G. M. Dick, Sec. '24; A. D. McColl, Sec. '24; W. O. Stevens, Sec. '25; T. M. duB. Godet, Sec. '26, and J. S. Pemberton, Sec. '27. Details of the arrangements for the various trips will appear in the "Notices" column of the Daily from time to time.

INITIAL GATHERING OF WESTERN CLUB

The Western Club opens its activities with a smoker in the Union at 8 p.m. to-night. It is highly desirable that the Club starts early in the year to be become acquainted with newcomers and meet old friends again. This smoker is something in the nature of a re-union and a "pleasant to meet you" evening.

There will be the odd players available or a bit of clay for those who are more particular. Whether you smoke or not, there will be a sandwich and a cup of coffee for all.

Sir Arthur Currie has signified his willingness to attend and there will be present one or two members from the Westerners' Club of Montreal, where interest is appreciated. Those who attended their annual dinner last year will remember it for a long time.

Incidentally an invitation to this smoker has been extended to a gentleman by the name of Renfrew, who hails from Alberta. Hope runs high that he might favor the club by dropping in.

promises to be spirited and interesting. A big parade will follow the elections, and after that will come the Hobo luncheon.

NEW COURSE IS INITIATED BY CORPORATION

Seven Years for Art Architecture Degree.

REGISTRATION

Increase of 75 Over Last Year's Total.

A double course in Arts and Architecture spread over a term of seven years is to be inaugurated at McGill. It was decided at the meeting of the Corporation held Wednesday. By the new arrangement a student who has obtained his B. A. degree will be eligible to enter the second year of Architecture.

It was announced at the meeting that the enrollment at McGill this year is a decided improvement over that of 1922-23 especially in the Arts faculty. The total registration to date is 2,335 being 75 more than the total returns for last year. Applications for entrance in the Graduate Faculty are encouraging.

The results of the election of representatives of the McGill Graduate Society to the corporation was announced. Dr. A. H. Gordon, being the choice for the medical graduates and W. F. Chipman the Law alumni. A second ballot must be taken before the representatives of the Graduates in Applied Science will be known.

Non-resident representing fellows elected were: A. G. Nicholls, of Halifax, representing the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland; A. C. Rutherford, of Edmonton, representing Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia; W. D. Wilson of Hamilton, representing Ontario, and E. P. Mathewson, of New York, for points outside of Canada and Newfoundland.

Dr. Silver was re-elected as representative of the university on the Teacher's Training Committee. Sir Arthur Curry, Principal of McGill University, presided over the meeting.

A recommendation from the Library Commission that three new members be chosen to hold office for three years was adopted; and it was decided that one should be secured from the Royal Victoria College, one from the Graduate Faculty, and a third from the Faculty of Science who shall be a faculty member of any of the committees of the special science libraries. It was also decided to issue reports quarterly instead of compiling five each year.

FIRST MEETING OF MUSIC SOCIETY

Musical Was Much Enjoyed.

The R. V. C. Music Society held their first meeting of the season Thursday at 4.15 in the Common Room.

The President, Miss James, occupied the chair in the absence of the Secretary. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Miss K. Perrin. Miss James then read a letter from Miss Cichtenstein in which the latter accepted with thanks the office of Honorary President and wished the Society all kinds of good luck during the coming year. After this the President spoke for a few minutes on the importance of the R. V. C. Music Society and earnestly requested the support of as many members as possible during the coming year.

The membership is not restricted to those playing musical instruments, but is open to all R. V. C. Undergraduates interested in music and the welfare of the Society.

The following officers were then elected:

President—Miss J. Fielders.
Vice-President—Miss K. Perrin.
Sec.-Treas.—Miss M. Perry.

Miss Fielders then took the chair and after the following programme which was greatly enjoyed by all present, the meeting adjourned.

Program.

ORIOLE

HORSES AND HEAVY GUNS FOR CORPS

C. O. T. C. to Have Medical Cavalry and Signalling Corps.

MILITARY DANCES

Proposed to Hold Big Smoker Very Shortly.

Excitement reigned supreme at the orderly room of the McGill C.O.T.C. yesterday afternoon when the announcement was made that the contingent proposed establishing medical, cavalry, artillery and signalling corps. It was also stated that a series of informal military dances would be held during the session, and that the official opening function of the season would be a smoker to be held shortly. A combined officers' and N. C. O.'s mess will also be established in the near future.

The addition of these corps, it is expected will enable the C.O.T.C. to come up to the full strength of three companies. The Medical Corps, which will be organized as a section of the Canadian Army Medical Corps will form a separate platoon of the contingent under the proposed plans. Admission to this platoon will be restricted, of course, to men in the medical faculty, preference being given to men with previous C.O.T.C. experience, or who are in their senior year. This detachment will receive special training which will qualify the members for certificate "A" in the C.A. M.C.

Men who have served in the C.O. T.C. and have been declared efficient during at least one year, may be attached to a cavalry troop, organized within the C. O. T. C., provided they are willing to supply mounts for mounted parades as directed by the troop commander. Men joining this troop will be able to take examinations for certificate "A" in the cavalry. No man will be permitted to join this troop without previous efficient service in the C.O.T.C., or unless he has had previous experience in either a cavalry regiment of the O.M.C.F. or B.E.F.

Courses leading to certificate "A" in the Artillery and Engineers will be instituted in the years 1924 and 1925. Men wishing to enter for either of these courses must have put in one year's efficient service in the Infantry (C.O.T.C.) or must have had other military experience approved by the officer commanding. Students in Electrical Engineering who take certificate "A" in the C.O.T.C. may take a special course leading to certificate "A" in the Canadian Corps of Signals.

Interviewed last night by the "Daily" Major W. V. Howard, Acting second-in-command of the McGill C.O.T.C., stated that this year the training corps, in addition to giving its members military training would seek to provide the men with recreation and enjoyment by a series of informal military dances, the first of which, it is hoped, will be held in the near future. These dances, it is understood, are in addition to the smokers usually held during the year.

Lieut.-Col. R. R. Thompson, M.C., officer commanding the corps stressed the fact that recruits this year would have to pass two tests before being admitted to his company. By these tests the Colonel hopes to raise the recruits' standard considerably.

It was also announced that Major D. H. Macfarlane, M.C., had been granted leave of absence until December 31, 1923.

LORD RENFREW SPEAKS TO MANITOBA FROSH

"I am glad you have come, and I wish you the best of luck in your university life," concluded Lord Renfrew in a short talk to the Arts students of the University of Manitoba. After the annual freshman rush the whole Arts student body paraded to the residence of Sir Augustus Nanton where His Lordship was staying. Several students were presented to him, with whom he chatted for several minutes, expressing amusement at the decorations which enshrouded the more verdant members of the university. After giving Lord Renfrew three hearty cheers, the men marched back to the college for refreshments and a speech from President MacLean, who congratulated them on their excellent behaviour and showing.

I kissed her in the moonlight,
I kissed her in the dark,
I kissed her in the parlor,
I kissed her in the park—
I fooled the other fellow,
I left him in the lurch—
I kissed her almost everywhere—
I kissed her in the church.

JUNIORS PRACTISE FOR RETURN GAME

Meet Loyola Team Next Wednesday.

With the exception of Gorrie and Glasco, who were both injured in Wednesday's game against Loyola, all the juniors were on hand for a work-out last night. Barring two or three who carried a slight limp the squad as a whole appeared to have suffered only slightly.

In preparation for the next game against Loyola they have a thorough signal practice and Mr. Flanagan spent considerable time in coaching them. Special attention was paid to the line-work as in this department is the greatest weakness. The half-line consists of Cameron, Gill and Stewart is composed of a very able trio and showed up well at the practice. Bazen at quarter called signals in snappy fashion and kept the team on the jump the whole time.

SCHOLARSHIP FOR MISS A. SHARPLES

Arts Graduate to Study in France.

Miss Alice Sharples, of Quebec, one of the 1923 graduates in the Faculty of Arts of McGill University, has been awarded the scholarship given annually by the French Government to a graduate of the University who has shown special proficiency in the study of French and literature, according to an announcement made at the University yesterday. This scholarship which provides for a year's study in France and is valued at 6,000 francs, with an additional 1,000 francs for travelling expenses, is being awarded this year for the second time. Miss Ruth Shaford, who received the award last year, being the first to benefit by the action of the French Government in this respect.

The object in granting the scholarship appears to be the encouragement of the study of the French language and literature, and it is the intention of Miss Sharples to specialize in this line of study during her stay in France. Miss Sharples, who received her B. A. degree from McGill this year, took first class honors in French and English, and was also the winner of the St. James Literary Society prize for the study of Shakespeare.

INFANT PRODIGES AT N.Y. 'VARSITY

Fourteen and Fifteen Years of Age.

The yearly tide of registration that sweeps through the colleges says the N. Y. U. Daily News has brought rich material to new York University in the shape of "infant prodigies." As yet Julian Orvine Hochfelder of Washington Square College is the best find rooted out by the "News" in the annual tribute to youth. Paul Julian Brodie, School of Commerce, and Max Shank, College of Arts and Pure Science are also strong candidates for honours. However all most strenuously and vociferously object to that dastardly term "infant prodigies."

"At the age of fourteen plus, we recall audacious thoughts of going to high school but, of course, we were never exactly brilliant. "Young" Hochfelder is still fourteen years of age if we wish to be exact. On October 18, he will boast of fifteen glimpses of summer and winter. Brodie, our other find, was fifteen on Sept. 20. He is enrolled in the School of Commerce. Although Hochfelder is enrolled at Washington Square College he is taking the combined B. S. and L. B. course. He is contemplating a journalistic career at the University of California, so perhaps he will be able to avenge this article. A graduate of Poly Prep School, this youthful paragon has left behind him a very active career and an enviable record of scholastic attainment. His chief lines of interest were literary, orchestra and sports, including tennis and basketball.

"Just taking advantage of opportunities" was his laconic reply, when asked how he accounted for his accomplishments. If we should judge his future at college by his past, we can most emphatically predict great things for him."

Max Shank is only fifteen years old his date of birth being Jan. 27, 1908. He was graduated from Woodridge (N. Y.) High School last June as valedictorian of his class. He moved to this city with his family during the summer in order that he might continue his studies in some large university. Aside from being a brilliant student, our prodigy is a sharp

VARSIITY REUNION HELD IN ENGLAND

Many Graduates Had Crossed in Cattle Boats.

Students who were in Toronto during the summer may have observed in the downtown papers an announcement to the effect that a Varsity reunion was to be held at the Savoy, London, England, on Dominion Day. All grads and undergraduates in England were requested to be present. As a considerable number of U. of T. graduates had gone to England—chiefly in cattle-boats—after the end of the term, a large attendance was expected.

Two last year's S. P. S. graduates, Fred Evans and Jack Goldie, were at the time touring Great Britain in a Ford which they had purchased. Seeing the notice of the Savoy dinner, they hastened down from the north of Scotland to be present at the reunion. On the evening of July 1st, they donned evening raiment and repaired to the hotel—to find themselves alone. Through an unfortunate series of coincidences the remainder of the Varsity men had not been able to make connection. Most of the cattle-boat contingent did not reach England till about the middle of July. Any that had arrived previously were, for one reason or another not present. So Evans and Goldie dined in solitary state. Thus fell the great Savoy Reunion Dinner.

Goldie and Evans saw much of England and Scotland during their peregrinations, visiting many points of historical interest, and they contrived to be at Epsom for the running of the Derby.

Those who crossed on cattle-boats were rewarded for their uncomfortable passage by being able to make quite extended trips in the countries of the United Kingdom. That most of them thus went broke is another matter.

Evans is now in Georgetown. Goldie remained in London to work with the British Empire Exhibition. It is to be hoped that at some future time a Varsity reunion will be held in England which will not end in such an unfortunate fiasco.

Near Interesting Discussion on St. Lawrence Waterways.

The Engineering Institute of Canada held, last night, a most successful meeting. Discussion on Mr. Forward's paper on The St. Lawrence Waterways" occupying the entire meeting. A large number of McGill students were present indicating that the Science Faculty are interesting themselves in the meeting of this body.

Many points of paramount interest both international, national and municipal were brought forward during the discussion. With regard to the power situation it appeared that while it is evident that at some time, it will be absolutely essential the power be developed it is questionable whether with the country already burdened with taxation the expenditure of such large sums would be advisable. On the other hand it was feared that should American capital be used international complications would arise when the time came that the entire amount of power permissible would be required in Canada.

A variety of viewpoints were brought up on the desirability of deep-water shipping facilities in the St. Lawrence. It would very evidently benefit the farmers of Western Canada to have a continuous water-shipment of large steamers from Port William to Montreal for with the present method using trans-shipment it actually costs more to ship grain a thousand miles from Port William to Montreal than 4,000 from Montreal at the game of chess. He does not guess to be a champion, but tells us that he "trims" everyone in his boarding house. At present Max is negotiating for a match with David Gladstone, last year's prodigy. It is interesting to note that Davy also entered at the age of fifteen and claims the junior chess title of the state of New Jersey.

When asked if he studied hard to attain his honors in high school, Max easy, Success is the fruit of hard work. Some people seem to think that because a person gets high marks in his work he grasps knowledge easily. I don't think this is true. Nobody can get good marks if he studies."

Max is of the timid sort. He shuns girls. "If you leave them alone, they will leave you alone," is his advice. The "News" contest is not over by any means. We have become blasé; nothing can surprise us. So it is coming (never) hear tell of a ten-year-old prodigy, be prepared

GOOD TENNIS EXHIBITED IN SEMI-FINAL

Morrice Defeats Wright in Brilliant Game.

PRETTY STARS

Crocker and Morrice Meet in Finals To-day

Yesterday afternoon witnessed some of the finest tennis that has ever been seen on the McGill courts. The third round and semi-finals of the tennis tournament were run off without a hitch, leaving the finals to be played this morning at 11 o'clock between Willard Crocker and "Dave" Morrice.

By far the most exciting game was that in which Morrice defeated Wright in the semi-finals, the score being 10-12, 7-5, 6-2. The play was brilliant throughout. Morrice played a placement game of almost uncanny accuracy, occasionally coming to the net. Wright forced the play during the first two sets but weakened in the third to lose the match.

In the earlier games, that between Perry and Crocker, was very interesting. Perry played almost perfect tennis forcing Crocker to extend himself to the limit to win 6-2, 5-7, 6-3. From his showing he should have a very good chance of making a place on the tennis team. Another player of promise is Brown who vanquished the veteran Ramsay, 7-5, 2-6, 6-2, and later made a very plucky stand against Crocker. Leslie played his customary steady game but was unable to stand up against Morrice's greater experience and accuracy.

A summary of the play follows:
Crocker beat Perry, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.
Brown beat Ramsay, 7-5, 2-6, 6-2.
Wright beat Douglas, 6-1, 6-1.
Morrice beat Leslie, 6-2, 6-4.
Crocker beat Brown, 6-2, 6-5.
Morrice beat Wright, 10-12, 7-5, 6-2.

to Liverpool. Another speaker maintained that present tramp steamers available were quite unsuited to take traffic and that the competition of the waterways would not reduce costs till a new fleet of suitable ships were paid for.

Some discussion on the holding up of work on the New Welland Canal was introduced and interesting arguments brought up both for and against continuance of the work.

All phases of the discussion met with great interest and all the members and visitors gleaned very valuable information.

UNION CAFETERIA

Financial Statement for Students' Society 1922-23

The President and Members,
Students' Council of McGill University.

Dear Sirs:—

We beg to report that we have completed an audit of your Books and Accounts for the year ended 30th June 1923, and enclose Financial Statements as shown by the index appended hereto. The net result for the year is an Excess Revenue of $4,132.56. Last year there was an excess expenditure of $766.18 so that the improvement over the previous year is $4,898.74.

This is due principally to an increase in the excess revenue from Athletics of approximately $3000.00 largely accounted for by the Rugby Football Club, and a decrease in the excess expenditure on other activities of approximately $1,000.00. The latter is accounted for by the improvement in the Union of about $3200.00 and the Profit on Theatre Night of about $300.00 more than offsetting the less favourable showing of the "Daily" of about $2700.00.

On 1st May last the Athletic Finances were taken over by the new Athletic Board of Control. The only reflection of this is shown by the Tennis Club which has had to stand Loss of the Book Value of the Club house and Courts written off, and at the same time has lost the Revenue since the 1st May.

The improvement in the Union, referred to above, is due principally to the increase in Revenue from the Cafeteria, which had a larger turnover, and the decrease in Expenditure on Repairs and Billiards. The loss on the "Daily" was due to the decrease in Advertising.

We have seen satisfactory vouchers for the disbursements. We verified the Cash on hand and in Banks, and the Investments.

We found the Books and Accounts in good order, and all our requirements as Auditors were complied with.

Yours very truly
McDONALD, CURRIE & CO.
Auditors.

ANNUAL GOLF MATCH TO BE PLAYED TODAY

Students Play Profs. at Dixie.

ENTHUSIASM SHOWN

Will be Social Event as Well as Contest.

Today is sports day and the big event of the morning will not take place at the Stadium but 20 miles west of Montreal. The annual Golf match between the students and the staff of the university will be played during the forenoon at the Royal Montreal Golf Club at Dixie, and interest runs high among students and profs alike as to the probable outcome. As a result it is expected that the team will be accompanied by a large number of onlookers as it travels to the course this morning.

The match will be played in singles, scoring by the Nassau system one point for each nine and one for the match. After the game each member of the staff will entertain his student-opponent at luncheon which will be served at 12.30 at the Club House. The staff team is in charge of Dr. Rutton and Prof. Dye while Alan McCall will lead the students. Several players well known in golfing circles will participate on both sides and a close contest is expected.

Golf in general and this annual match in particular is one of the few ways in which students and professors come up against each other in an athletic capacity and interest in the game is rapidly growing especially around the campus. As a result of this new interest an enthusiastic meeting the other day the McGill University Golf Club came into being and this morning's event is the beginning of what promises to be a most interesting program which this new organization is planning.

This match is of particular interest because it is from these players that the team is to be chosen to represent McGill in the intercollegiate match which will take place with the University of Toronto early next month. With the weather prospects good and the players of a particularly high order a most interesting morning is anticipated and certainly worth any student's time to go to see.

After a short and hotly contested tug-of-war the freshmen achieved a double victory at Hope College when they easily pulled the second-year men from the advantageous position into the river.

ATTENTION MED. '29.

The class meeting called for Friday Oct. 12th at 1 p.m. has been postponed owing to all lectures being cancelled on Friday. The meeting will take place on Monday, Oct. 15th at 4 p.m. in the Physics Building. The meeting will be short, so please stay and you will hear something worth while listening to. Do not be conspicuous by your absence.

MED. '29 SOCIETY.

Those interested in Soccer will please report to Mr. Curran, the Sports Manager, as soon as possible. We want to get a good team to play Varsity and Queens' if you can play, turn out to practice and make a good showing for Med. '29. Let's show the others that we amount to something this year. Now, all out to soccer practice!

SCIENCE '27 MEETING.

At the meeting of First Year noon, the following were elected to office.

C.O.T.C. ORDERS

Week ending October 22nd, 1923.
Orderly Officer: October 16th-18th Capt. A. I. Olmstead, October 19th-22nd Lt. D. Boyd. Next for Duty Lt. J. Dalley.

Orderly Sergeant: October 16th-18th Serg. G. A. Kingston, October 19th-22nd Cpl. K. Reid. Next for Duty Sgt. G. A. Grier.

PARADES: Contingent Parade: There will be a parade of the whole contingent at Craig Street Drill Hall on Monday, October 15th from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Dress: Drill order for those in possession of uniform. Mufti for recruits.

Recruit Parades: There will be parades for recruits at the Old Law Building, between 5 and 6 p.m. on the following week-nights: Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Recruits will also parade with the contingent as above.

Orderly Room: The Orderly Room will be open every week-day from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoons for signing on of recruits.

Recruits Training: Every recruit must pass two examinations, one on drill without arms and one on drill with arms. These examinations will be given by the officer in charge of training, the adjutant, or an officer appointed for definite period by the officer in charge of training.

Any officer passing a man from one recruit class to another or from his recruit class to his company is required to hand in at the Orderly Room, a memorandum to that effect within 24 hours of the time of examination.

A high standard will be required of all recruits.

ORGANIZATION: Canadian Army Medical Corps: Provided a sufficient number of men from the Faculty of Medicine apply, one platoon of the C. O. T. C. will be organized as a section of the C. A. M. C. This detachment will receive training which will qualify the members for certificate "A" in the C. A. M. C. Preference will be given to men who have previously become efficient in the C. O. T. C. or who have previously become efficient in the C. O. T. C. or are in their senior year in the Faculty of Medicine.

Cavalry: Men who have served in the C. O. T. C. and have been declared efficient during at least one year, may be attached to a cavalry troop organized within the C. O. T. C. provided they are willing to supply mounts for mounted parades as directed by the troop commander. Men joining this troop will be able to take examinations for certificate "A" in the cavalry. A man will be permitted to join this troop without previous experience in either a cavalry regiment or the O. M. F. C. or B. E. F.

Artillery: Engineers: Courses leading to certificate "A" in the Artillery and Engineers will be instituted in the year 1924 and the year 1925. Men wishing to enter for either of these courses must have put in one year's efficient service in the Infantry (C. O. T. C.) or must have had such military experience as the Officer Commanding McGill C. O. T. C. shall from time to time direct.

Canadian Corps of Signals: Students in Electrical Engineering who take certificate "A" in the C. O. T. C. may take a special course leading to Certificate "A" in the C. C. of S. Men enrolling for any of the above courses will enlist in the C. O. T. C. in the usual manner and will be attached to the present organization of the C. O. T. C. For further information apply to the Orderly Room.

B.W.&F. MEETING IN UNION AT 5 P.M.

Big Rally of All Men Interested is Urged.

After all sports are over tomorrow night the B. W. & F. Club is to hold its second meeting in the Union Ball Room. For the information of newcomers to the University, the B. W. & F. Club means the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club and it is devoted to the furthering of the interests of these three branches of sport around the University. Every year a meet is held at one of the three Central Universities when they compete for the honors in the various branches.

A the meeting tomorrow night a big turn out is expected as it will be held after all the events of the day are over. Very important business is to be taken up among which is the election of the following officers: Secretary-manager, assistant-manager, Fencing representative.

Plans for the year are to be discussed and the times and hours of the various practices will be announced. As far as is known, the coaches this year will be the same as last. Boxing practices are for the present to be held in the Gymnasium and wrestling in the Union.
